

Relief, yield, and retention are separate outcomes and require separate measurements.